AT Naples the Vice Roy hath published a Proclamation, that vpon and after the 10. of Iune, all those that haue money in the Bancke shall be payed with ready money and not by Letters of Exchange.

There are dayly more and more taken Prisoners of them that haue made the Commotion heere before mentioned, being 7. of the aforesaid already Executed.

From Venice the 10. day.

The Granbunters being assisted by the Switzers haue inuaded the Valley of Pertenisa, and taken the great Bulwarke, killing many of the Spaniards, in such manner that the Generall Balderon was compelled to retire himselfe into the Woods.

They haue likewise expelled the Garrisons of Leopoldus out of two Forts, and taken the passage from them, which hath caused that they make great hast at Millaine, to send ayde thither.

From Constantinople wee heare, that the Turkish Emperour makes great preparations for Warre, and seeing the Ambassadour of Polonia doth not come forth, there is much doubted of the Peace agreed with the King of that Kingdome, and principally because the Cossackes rob againe on the blacke Sea, being also diuers Gallies sent against them.

It was written from Genoa, that 6. of the Galleyes of the Duke of Doria were gone for Naples to transport the new leauyed Souldiers of that Kingdome.

The Bashaw of Alexandria hath Arrested in Egypt the Venetian Consull, demaunding 50000. Ryals of Eight from him; the Venetians hauing taken the value of it from the Turkes.

We are aduised from Spaine, that concerning Valtolina, there was made an agreement to the great contentment and satisfaction of the Crownes of Spaine & France, besides other States and Princes, and all Catholike Princes shall haue free passage, the Forts shall bee deliuered into the hands of the Pope, or some other Prince that shall be trusted with it, vpon certaine Conditions, as among other that he shall bee bound to maintaine there the Catholike Religion.

The English and Venetian Ambassadour are arriued at Alcola, and shall very shortly make their Entry; In this Kingdome is giuen order to take vp diuers Souldiers, whereof some are to bee sent into Italy, and some in the Low-Countries.

Letters from Constantinople aduise, that all the Venetian Ships thereabout were Arrested, by reason that of late 2. Galleyes of Venice haue taken two Turkish Ships that loaden with Corne were bound for Morea; The Venetian Consull being afraid, hath saued himselfe in the Pallace of the French Ambassadour, who will vnder-take to bring the matter to agreement.

Heere is newes that the Granbunters assisted by the Switzers haue recovered Chur, and slaine the Garrison, but wee hope to heare the truth very shortly from Milaine.

From

From Mayence the 11. day.

The City of Chur, desire to parley with the Confederated Grisons, but they will haue the Gouvernour deliuered into their hands, and hauing taken the Castle, haue to day mustered their men, amounting to 12000. Heere are two Companies in Garrison, likewise two in Flethenbergh, one in the Fort at Steigh, two at the passage in Brettingaw, and sixe other are appointed to keepe diuers passages safe. The remainder lye before Chur, and they haue all passages free, sauing that in Engaden. Wherefore the Archduke Leopaldus hath sent 2000. Foote of Lotterringia, and 400. Horse to Bregants, to keepe the passage. The Catholikes haue stoppt the passage at Sargants toward Bundten, that nothing can be conueyed vnto those of Brettingaw, But it is held that the Protestant Switzers are marching thither to open the said passage by force of Armes.

From Vienna the 15. of Iune. 1622.

The Dyety of Hungaria at Odenburgh continueth yet, and they are agreed concerning the restitution of the Spirituall goods, and likewise there are Commissioners appointed to comay the Crowne from Trenschin to Presburgh; and it is reported that the States meete at Odenburgh, doe humble themselves with great submission before the Emperiall Maiestie.

The States of Hungaria haue deliuered their greeuances vnto the Emperour, and it is thought that within a fortnight the Emperesse shall be crowned at Presburgh.

The Lord Budians is not yett arriued at Odenburgh, and there there is small or rather no hope at all of his coming there.

From Prague the 16. day.

Vpon Thursday last are come here 4000. Cossacks, besides a great number of Vagabonds and idle people, hauing taken their passage through Silesia by force, doing great hurt in the Countrey by burning and robbing, hauing made their way by force of Armes through the reuolted Boores about Glatz, and killed about 500. of them. The said Boores growe dayly stronger and stronger, amounting already to 9000. men, and haue some 50. Gentlemen, and men of note amongst them.

But

But Mounseur Tilly lieth yet at Turkenheim, and thereabout in the Iurisdiction of Hanaw, to let his Forces rest there two or three dayes. The meane time is the Country here round about quite spoyled, and the corne, graines and vines destroyed, which will cause here great dearth.

of Brunswicke : wherein it was said that the Duke sustained great losse ; but it is not so great as was reported. For Brunswicke lost in all but 900, men, whereof some were slaine, and some drowned in the Mayn : and happened in this manner.

The last Sunday, being the 19. day of this Moneth, is the Emperours whole army vnder Mounseur Tilly. Don Consaluo de Cordua, and the Baron of Anholt passed by the Citie of Francfort with 18. pieces of Ordnance, and enquartered themselues hereabouts. And on Munday marched by Rodelheim, and because Brunswicke had laid Garrison therein, they summoned the said Castle: but the Garison making resistance, they planted eight pieces of Ordnance against the same, and after diuers shot giuen, did get it at last by agreement.

This day the Emperours Forces comming about Hoesst, they beganne to skirmish with the Forces of Brunswicke, and continued 6. houres, and hauing planted their Ordnance, shot strongly amongst their enemies the Brunswickers, who in regard that one of their Peeces of Ordnance was broken in the beginning, and another nayed, and that the third peece they could not vse longer, they haue orderly retyred ouer the Mayn towards Manheim, and the Country of Darmstadt, accompanied with diuers wagons, amongst which were two loaden with money.

price of the Rye was fallen twenty in the hundred, and the corne was likely to prosper well this yeare.

Out of France we heare that their fishing will be slight, seeing that most part of the fishermen that are vsed to fish about Terra neuve, cannot make themselues ready for want of Salt, caused by those of Rochell, who will not suffer any to be transported: which without question will cause great dearth and misery in France.
